Galahad is a small play environment with many activities

Galahad sparks children's imagination. With a rotating ship's wheel and telescope on the lookout barrel, the stage is set for hours of role-play, even taking in the far corners of the playground. The non-slip steps allow even the youngest children to climb up safely. From the platform, a ride down the slide provides lots of excitement, as well as helping children to understand cause and effect.

Children invent their own games

One of the main advantages of the LEDON Castle series is all the different activities that set the scene for children's play while giving them the opportunity to pursue their own ideas. The transparent panes project coloured patterns onto the ground, inspiring various games, while the knight's shield and sword and the four animal outlines encourage linguistic and social interaction and also exercise the children's motor skills.
